

Dale Taylor
Chief Executive Officer

CORPORATE SAFETY POLICY

The personal safety of the employees of Hussey Copper is of paramount importance to the management of this organization.

It is our intention to provide a safe working environment, in compliance with all federal, state, and local regulations for Hussey Copper employees. We insist upon the adherence to all applicable safety principle and practices. Required protective equipment must be worn at all times in our daily activities.

The establishment and maintenance of a safe working environment must be a continuing, cooperative effort between management and the labor force. Safety is equal in importance to all other matters of production, cost and/or quality.

Additionally, each employee has a personal responsibility to themselves, co-workers, employer, family and friends to contribute to a successful, safe work environment.

Unsafe conditions must be reported and remedied. Resources will be committed to accomplish this. For the benefit of all employees, unsafe practices will not be tolerated, and safety regulations will be uniformly enforced.

A handwritten signature in blue ink, appearing to read 'Dale Taylor', is positioned above the printed name.

Dale Taylor
Chief Executive Officer